Olin Corporation – Lead Director

Randall Larrimore served as the Chairman of Olin Corporation from April 2003 through June 2005. From 1997 until his retirement in December 2002, he served as President and Chief Executive Officer of United Stationers Inc. (a wholesale distributor of office products). Mr. Larrimore became President and Chief Executive Officer of this $3.9 billion wholesale distributor of business products, in May 1997. He retired from the position at the end of 2002.

From February 1988 to May 1997, Mr. Larrimore served as President and Chief Executive Officer of MasterBrand Industries, a subsidiary of Fortune Brands (formerly American Brands), a company that manufactures leading brands including Master Lock padlocks and Moen faucets which was acquired during his tenure. In that same year, he was elected a corporate Vice President with responsibility for the entire Hardware and Home Products businesses. He oversaw the operations of companies with revenues in excess of $1.3 billion, including Moen, Master Lock, Waterloo Industries (tool storage products), and Aristokraft Inc. (kitchen cabinets and bathroom vanities).

Mr. Larrimore managed this core group of companies under three different owners: American Brands, E-II which was acquired by American Brands, and Beatrice Companies. He joined Beatrice in 1983 as Vice President of Marketing for its Home Products Division and a year later was promoted to President of Beatrice Home Specialties. In 1983, the company became a unit of E-II Holdings which was purchased by American Brands in 1988.

Previously, from 1980 to 1983, Mr. Larrimore was with PepsiCo in two international assignments. He joined Pepsi as the Director of Strategic Planning for Pepsi-Cola Europe, based in London, to be the chief planning officer for Eastern and Western Europe. One year later, he was promoted to Managing Director of Pepsi-Cola Italy, with the mission of building the soft drink business in that country.

Earlier, Mr. Larrimore was a consultant with McKinsey & Company in its Consumer Products practice from which he was recruited by a former partner to join PepsiCo. He began his career with Richardson-Vicks in 1971 and spent five years there in product management roles.

Mr. Larrimore served as a member of the boards of Evanston Northwestern Healthcare, and Students for Free Enterprise. He was also a member of the City of Hope Office Products Council Executive Committee.
